

CLAIMS STAKED OUT

By Bisbee Men Near the Easter Sunday.

The Country Around Shows Great Mineral Formation and Has Proved Rich.

Mr. Bucklin, the mining expert, E. M. Nemeck and J. F. Haley yesterday went out to the Easter Sunday mine to look into the reliability of the late wonderful gold strike reported at that property, and samples of which ore were displayed in this town, showing evident immense values.

The visitors pronounced at once that the find on the Easter Sunday was all that has been claimed for it, and that the property generally is most promising.

The party inspected the ground in the neighborhood and found a considerable area that had escaped the eagle eyes of the numerous prospectors anxious to secure claims in this favorable locality.

Three claims were secured on a lode showing plainly for a considerable distance, the position being about half a mile only from the Easter Sunday in a southeasterly direction and right on the incline of the hill.

The position is most convenient for working the claims, as the new railroad passes close by, and a wagon road for shipping the ore can readily be built with little expense.

A quantity of ore was taken from the cap on one of the three claims staked out which showed free gold, and which runs very high on assay. This is only at the grass roots, and before work has been commenced in earnest.

The country all around shows a wonderful mineral aspect, the strata being remarkable. The three claims are named the Gold Crown No. 1, Gold Crown No. 2 and Gold Crown No. 3. Development work will be undertaken at once to test the ore body as far as can be done for the present.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

Mrs. Harrington and little daughter left today for a trip west.

WANTED—Experienced waiters wanted at once. Apply, Box 474.

Travel is pretty heavy between this region and the coast just now.

Bisbee saloon licenses are being paid in to the justice's office just now.

J. T. Scannell took his departure for the Californian coast this morning.

Geo. H. Davis, of La Cananea, is in town and is registered at the Hotel Angus.

Mr. Abrams, the well known and genial proprietor of the Naco hotel, is in today.

Mrs. Foley and daughter Nellie attended the funeral of Mr. Gill at Tombstone.

E. B. Gogherty arrived yesterday from Los Angeles and registered at the Bessemer.

George Neenan left this morning for San Francisco. He will enjoy his holidays at that city.

WANTED—A position as housekeeper by a competent lady. Call at the Norton House, room 5.

John Kennedy was among the passengers on the outgoing train today. He will visit San Francisco.

WANTED—By two ladies, any kind of housework, or housekeeping. Washing taken. Apply at the Hughes House.

Zellner, the piano man, left for Tombstone today, where he expects to dispose of several of his fine instruments.

Mrs. A. B. Boscom, of Los Angeles, arrived yesterday evening and will visit her relatives in this city for a few weeks.

Miss McDonald, who has been in California for some weeks, was among the passengers on the incoming train yesterday.

John L. Woods of Placerville, Mexico, was among the guests who were enjoying the hospitality of the Norton last evening.

Mr. Baptist Carretto, the local storekeeper and wine merchant, returned from California yesterday, where he has sought health on the Pacific coast. He looks in first class health and spirits.

Messrs. Sparks, Ables and Mart Cook, formerly a compositor on the REVIEW, left Bisbee this morning on a prospecting trip through Sonora, Mexico. They will be gone until they strike it rich. They are thoroughly equipped and have a fine prospecting outfit.

At an early hour yesterday morning two Mexicans were shot near the slag dump by Manuel Mesa. The injured men are Dionicio Arvillo, who received a bullet in his arm, and Victor Leyvas, whose hand was perforated. The shooting was the result of jealousy over the somewhat too liberal distribution of the readily bestowed affections of two fair Mexican nymphs. After the shots had been fired Manuel fled, but returned and hovered around the neighborhood until the officers captured him. He is now safe in jail. His victims were the recipients of medical treatment and no particular danger is apprehended.

Miss Jesse Petrie departed by the outgoing morning train today on her journey to Frisco, whither she goes to visit her brother and sister.

FOR RENT—Store building on Main street; choice location; unusual opportunity. Apply to J. H. Brophy.

Mrs. C. H. Stewart, of New York, came in yesterday and was a guest at the Norton hotel. She goes on to Tucson, where her brother is in business.

The wet season is now on and you need gutters on your buildings. Go to E. G. Ord Co. Gutters made in any style. Tombstone avenue, next to the brewery.

Charley Clawson is building a stone wall and filling in ground at his residential property in order to make the space more convenient within the boundaries of his land.

The failure of rain this season, in the Dragoons especially, is causing great loss to the cattle men. Unless the rainy season sets in immediately there will be an exodus of cattle for the more favored regions.

Denny Twomey came in from Tombstone yesterday and returned today. He will assist his sister, Mrs. Gill, in settling up her husband's affairs. Mrs. Gill will receive quite a useful sum from the Woodmen.

A letter has been received from Mrs. B. Geisenhofer by a friend in this town. Mrs. Geisenhofer and daughter, Katie, are enjoying the climate and life of that splendid city, Los Angeles, and they were present at the great parade of the Fourth.

Sam Hayhurst, the well known genial cattleman of the San Pedro, and a partner of Pete Johnson, came into town yesterday. Mr. Hayhurst will make Bisbee his headquarters for a time and intends to assist Mr. Johnson in his mining work.

The Bisbee Gun Club will hold a practice shoot at their grounds below town tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp. The public is cordially invited to attend. Kirt Hart of Tucson will be on hand with a number of fine guns and give an exhibition in fancy shooting.

Numbers of Mexicans are being engaged for the rougher surface work on the mines around here. There are demands in from mine owners for large gangs of the Mexican laborer, and local men who understand the business of engaging this class of labor are kept busy.

A farmer's team ran away this morning, down Main street. The horses ran into the railing near the company store and broke that up. Then they tore down the railroad, keeping right on the track till they reached the switch where they were caught. The wagon was a complete wreck.

N. S. Travers, who has been for some time in this locality and out in the Dragoon Mountains prospecting, and who owns quite a number of claims in that district, has gone to Sonora. He left with a part of his prospecting outfit which he intends to complete in Sonora. His trip will occupy three months.

WANT WHIPPING POST LAW.

Two Magistrates of Brooklyn Believe That It Is the Only Effectual Method of Treating Wife-Beaters.

Magistrates Brenner and Bristow, of Brooklyn, agree that the whipping post is the only efficacious remedy for wife beating, and will exercise their influence to obtain the passage of a law providing for the public chastisement of men who beat their wives. Magistrate Brenner lately extended clemency to Charles Blaney, accused by his wife, Kate, of beating her. The magistrate was about to send the man to jail when the wife pleaded for him. She said she would get nothing to eat if he were sent away. Magistrate Brenner suspended sentence on Blaney's promise to give his wife money every Saturday night and refrain from beating her.

He broke his promise, it is alleged, and beat his wife severely. He was arraigned again. Magistrate Brenner was about to send him to jail when the wife again interceded. The magistrate said:

"Blaney, if I had my will I would have a law passed in this state to establish the whipping posts for husbands who beat their wives. I think at the next session of the legislature something of this kind might be done. I will send you to jail for awhile until I can learn more about the matter."

Magistrate Brenner said after court had adjourned:

"Judge Bristow, with whom I have conferred, agrees with me. We will see other judges to learn what can be done to get such a law on the statute books."

Senators and representatives have been much annoyed lately by the noise and confusion caused by the laying in of fuel for the comfort of those who spend the better part of the winter in the capitol building. Much complaint on this score has been heard recently, and in order to stop the annoyance a paragraph was inserted in the sundry civil appropriation bill which provides "that hereafter all fuel shall be delivered to the two wings of the capitol only during such hours and under such regulations as the architect of the capitol prescribes." It is the intention of the architect to contract with the wood and coal dealers to deliver the goods at night, so as to avoid interference with public work by the noise made in delivering coal during the day.

MUST NOT CONVERSE

The Reporters Were Denied Admission.

But Stiles Talked with His Fellow Prisoners Which Should be Prevented.

When Billy Stiles made his reappearance here after two months and more of roving over the desert and mountains, says the Star, the reporters and others were denied admission to his quarters, the authorities taking the ground that it was unwise to have Stiles talk to anybody under the existing conditions, but they did not fully cover the ground as Stiles and his companion behind the bars are known to have held midnight caucuses, during which Stiles went back to the hour when the question of holding up the passenger train at Cochise station was first mentioned among those associated with Stiles. Billy's fellow prisoners naturally did a little pumping and in return Stiles did a little himself.

His story went out with recent discharges, but these men feel in duty bound not to tell what they know, or at least not all they know.

At Yuma it would seem to be the same as in the "pen" the inmates converse more or less with their associates. Stiles has changed his story so many times it would be difficult to tell which one is correct.

It is very likely that Stiles does know a good deal, and the very fact that his knowledge when revealed which it will of course be in time, will create a decided sensation. It is alone sufficient to cause Mr. Stiles to feel a sensation of importance and to be at times overburdened with the vast weight of the revelation he will make.

These varying statements to fellow prisoners act as a sort of safety valve and keeps Mr. Stiles from bursting. Besides they create excitement and Stiles poses as a hero.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to thank sincerely my many Bisbee friends for their ready sympathy and kind assistance extended to me during my late bereavement. Their kindness to us lightened our sorrow, and we sincerely trust that their homes may not be darkened by the loss of any of their loved ones.

MRS. MARY GILL.
